$1.2 Billion for Soil Bank Gets Committee Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted $200,000,000 for President Eisenhower to put a soil bank farm plan into effect immediately.

The committee vote was 36-7 to give the administration funds to put into emergency operation the President's plan to pay farmers for taking a percentage of the surplus croplands out of production.

The plan was part of the catch-all farm bill which President Eisenhower vetoed because of the accompanying Democratic sponsored sections raising farm supports. The veto was upheld by the House yesterday.

Some Democrats have been insisting all along that the soil bank plan can be dealt with under existing law if the money is provided, but the administration asserts it needs new legislation.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) reported that one Democrat and six Republicans voted against the bill, which Rep. Taber (R-NY) charged was loaded with "political language."

Cannon, however, declared the committee's surprise action would "take the farm question out of politics."

He said the funds would be immediately available for payments during this calendar year up to Jan. 1, 1957, and could be spent by the president "in any way he sees fit" under existing farm law.

The appropriations committee took matters into its own hands while Republicans were trying to drum up support for separate soil bank legislation.

B. B. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans sought today to drum up support for the administration's soil bank program in the wake of yesterday's House vote upholding President Eisenhower's veto of the catch-all farm bill.

Democratic leaders had charted no plans for new farm legislation although Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) said without elaborating "there may be something done."

Rep. Poage (D-Tex) predicted that "if we get a farm bill, it won't be passed until the last week of the session in July."

In the Senate, 45 members—including four Democrats—opposed an administration soil bank bill.

In the House, all but one of the 16 Republicans on the Agriculture Committee introduced identical soil bank bills patterned along Eisenhower's recommendations.

Democrats generally do not oppose the soil bank, which contemplates payments totaling up to $1,000,000,000 yearly to farmers who agree to take land out of production of crops already in surplus.

But Democratic leaders have insisted that any such legislation must be accompanied by higher price supports and other features the administration objects to.

House GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts said Republicans are united in trying to salvage the soil bank, but he added:

"We can't bring it to the floor, because the Democrats have the majority of the votes. But all the Republicans will be behind it."

Says Democrats Can't Ignore Segregation

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today the Democratic party can't afford to go to the voters with a 1956 platform that "ignores or rebukes" the Supreme Court's school integration decision.

Humphrey, who has taken a leading role in past convention fights for adoption of strong civil rights planks, will participate in a two-day Democratic rally opening here tomorrow.

The conference schedule calls only for informal discussion of campaign issues and leaders obviously hoped to avoid any public debate now on the civil rights question, with its threat to party unity.

But Humphrey said he thinks the party's presidential nomination platform will have to express "concurrence in and support of the Supreme Court's decision and the court's implementation of the integration order."

"That doesn't include any congressional or executive action on the issue," he said. "My position is that the court has taken jurisdiction and that it can and will gain compliance with its order."

Some Southerners have made it clear that if the platform calls for White House enforcement of the court's order, or a candidate is nominated who pledges such action, they might walk out of the August convention in Chicago.

Humphrey seemed to be stopping short of such a declaration.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), one of those who signed a recent congressional "manifesto" advocating legal reversal of the court's decision, declined to say whether he thinks the kind of plank Humphrey outlined would be acceptable to Southern Democrats.

Wet Millwood Is Advocated by Pilkinton

Texarkana — Chancellor James H. Pilkinton spoke in behalf of a Millwood Reservoir again Wednesday when he appeared before the Texarkana Kiwanis Club at the Coffee Cup.

The chancellor spoke as a private citizen who believes a water supply is essential to the future development of the Southwest Arkansas area and sees in Millwood a logical source of supply.

He explained that the Southwest Arkansas Water District was organized to present this area's claim to an adequate water supply in Millwood Dam and to ultimately be the agency for distributing water from its reservoir.

He said it was not organized to fight anybody, its only concern being to take advantage of a tremendous water supply which Millwood could provide so that the area could compete for municipal, agricultural and industrial growth.

"Fort Worth and Dallas are already eying this area as a potential source of supply. I've been told, and while we admire their foresight, we believe that if they are to have water from the Little River Valley it should be after the needs of the Valley are served."

The chancellor, who has long recognized the value of water to an area, could not see the sense in building a $50 million-plus dam that did not have water behind it.

After his talk, Boyd Tackett, Texarkana attorney, urged the Kiwanis members to support the Southwest Arkansas Water District by paying $1 or more for membership in the organization.

Independence Waits in Anticipation

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) —

There was an air of quiet anticipation in Independence today as the folks at 218 North Delaware awaited the arrival of the bridegroom-to-be.

E. C. Daniel Jr., the New York newspaperman who will be wed Saturday to Margaret Truman, was due in neighboring Kansas City, by air, about noon.

Margaret planned to meet him at the airport. Daniel will be a house guest of her parents, former President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman. So will Daniel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Daniel Sr. of Zebulon, N. C., who are due tomorrow.

A big family party is scheduled at the Truman home tonight. It's to give Daniel a chance to meet Margaret's aunt, uncles and cousins.

Meanwhile, Independence continued to take wedding preparations in stride.

Faubus Chats With Possible Opponent

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus and Chris Finkbeiner chatted about the upcoming Democratic primaries for about two hours in a hotel room meeting this week, the governor said today.

Finkbeiner, a Little Rock meat packer has said publicly that he is considering running for governor. Faubus, with his first term nearing an end, hasn't said whether he will seek re-election. It generally is believed that he will run again.

"I gave him some of my experiences," said Faubus, "about such promises by people who are going to back you so strongly, then when you need them they are not there."

The governor said the conversation took place in his hotel room at Dallas during a goodwill tour which Faubus, Finkbeiner and other Arkansians made this week.

Finkbeiner said he and Faubus had a "mighty fine conversation" but he declined to say what points they discussed. He said he hadn't decided yet whether he will run.

Did Faubus ask Finkbeiner if he would run?
"I did not," the governor said.

"He did not," the governor said. "We only discussed the idea of running for governor."

Does Faubus think Finkbeiner will run?
"He may and he may not," Faubus said. "I don't know."

So far no candidates have filed for the Democratic nomination for governor. The deadline for filing party loyalty and anti-corruption pledges is May 2.

Cease Fire Pact, Agreed to by Egypt, Israeli

By ERIC GOTTGETRU

JERUSALEM, (Israeli) Sector (AP) — Dag Hammarskjöld announced today Egypt and Israel have agreed to an unconditional ceasefire on their borders, effective at 6 p. m. last night "and from that time on."

The U. N. Secretary General's announcement came out through headquarters of the U. N. Palestine Truce Commission almost 24 hours after the agreed deadline for an end to the hostilities such as those which flared dangerously two weeks ago.

The announcement of the agreement was issued simultaneously in Cairo, Jerusalem and the U. N. headquarters in New York.

"At the request of the Secretary General of the United Nations," it said, "the governments of Israel and Egypt have notified him that as of 6 p. m., April 8, and from that time on, orders are in force to the effect that, in implementation of assurances to observe Article 2, Paragraph 2 of the Israeli-Egyptian armistice agreement, no military or paramilitary forces, including nonregular forces, may shoot across the demarcation line or pass over that line for any purpose whatsoever."

That Article of the armistice "No element of the land, sea, air military or paramilitary forces of either party, including nonregular forces, shall commit any warlike or hostile act against the military or paramilitary forces of the other party, or against civilians in that territory under the control of that party, or shall advance beyond or pass over for any purpose whatsoever the armistice demarcation line set forth in Article 6 of this agreement, and elsewhere shall not violate the international frontier, or enter into or pass through the waters within three miles of the coastline of the other party."

Alexander Orlov, living in hiding in the United States since deserting in 1938, said the late dictator's double dealing recently was exposed, possibly by Marshal Grigori Zhukov.

Orlov said he was convinced this was the reason for the campaign of downgrading Stalin in now being conducted by Soviet Leader Nikita S. Khrushchev at home and abroad.

Orlov, elaborating his charge at a news conference, also said that:

1. Stalin was a homosexual and collector of pornography.

2. The Russians may have dissolved the Cominform to pave the way for a Communist - instigated revolution in France or Italy.

Orlov's charge concerning Stalin's czarist activities was contained in an article published in the current issue of Life magazine. Life also published an original letter from the Communist secret police files, detailing Stalin's activities in their behalf as early as 1906.

The letter now is held by the Tolstoy Foundation of New York.

He has taken a room in St. Charles, west of Chicago, but hasn't had a chance to get a job.

I've been going and coming so fast I haven't had time to think of employment," he said. Eaton said he has been on several TV and radio programs that netted him $200, an electric shaver and a wrist watch. He's been interviewed by two magazine writers and contacted by an author who wants to do a book about his case.

Eden Reportedly Will Warn Russians Not to Meddle in Middle East

Melankov's Stock Rising Once Again

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Georgi Melankov, deposed Premier of the Soviet Union, is regarded here as a man once more on the upgrade in Moscow's collective iron rule.

Some experts believe he may one day become Premier again. Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov is being used, in the Washington view, for his diplomatic skill but his power and influence have declined since Stalin's death. It is considered possible he will end up in the figurehead position of Soviet President when aging Marshal Klementi Voroshilov steps aside.

Marshal Georgi Zhukov, defense minister and wartime friend of President Eisenhower, is rated as a highly respected member of the ruling group but not a dominant figure. The consensus here is that military men are not trying to exercise decisive influence on Soviet policies.

Russian personalities and policies have been under close scrutiny as officials try to puzzle out what the Russians are up to with their new pattern of conduct dramatized by their repudiation, beginning in February, of most of Stalin's works and teachings.

Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen was called home for consultation which is due to be concluded shortly.

American officials generally have concluded that the basic elements of danger which existed in Stalin's times are still present. Russia remains a dictatorship subject to the absolute decision and control of a very few men. It remains a military power of the first rank. It is guided by an aggressive ideology which as a first article of faith calls for destruction of every non-Communist system of society in the world.

The Washington analysis of Soviet behavior currently focuses on the British visit of Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Nikita Khrushchev, Communist party boss. What they say and do will be examined closely for clues as to Soviet intentions in the Middle East, South Asia, Africa and Western Europe.

Innocent Man in Prison for 16 Years

CHICAGO (AP) — Ray Eaton, like the rest of it, looked at the world about him today.

But to him it seemed different—like heaven.

Eaton, a small man of 52, has been out in the world for two weeks after spending 16 years in prison for a crime he didn't commit.

"It's like coming out of hell and going right up to heaven," he said.

Eaton told a newsman yesterday of the things that had impressed and amazed him in this strange, new land.

Automobiles: "I've seen cars in junk yards that were better looking than the car we had back in 1940."

Clothing: "You see men wearing patterns now they wouldn't be caught dead in the old days."

The course, totaling 82 hours of class work, will be concluded with a written examination.

Subjects will include organization and administration in police work, the mechanics of arrest, investigation of deaths, and traffic.

Liberal Sought to Oppose Fulbright

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Washington group is seeking a "liberal" candidate to oppose Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) in this summer's primaries. It was reported here last night.

The Arkansas Gazette, which carried the report, said the Washington group was composed of "opponents of the Dixon-Yates contract and the natural gas bill."

Fulbright, Arkansas junior senator, has filed as a candidate for a third term. So far he is unopposed in the Democratic primaries. The ticket will close May 2. Fulbright was unopposed for a second term six years ago.

The Gazette said the Washington group had eliminated two Arkansas political figures as possible opponents of Fulbright. The newspaper said the group had no apparent interest in former Gov. Ben Laney and that former Gov. Sid McMath had rejected an overture to oppose Fulbright.

Fulbright backed the "Dixon-Yates proposal and initiated in the Senate the controversial natural gas bill.

The Dixon-Yates contract, now cancelled, would have permitted private power interests to erect a steam generating plant at West Memphis to provide power in the Tennessee Valley Authority area across the Mississippi River.

The natural gas bill, which was vetoed by President Eisenhower, would have reduced federal power Commission controls over natural gas.

At Washington, Fulbright was in a Senate Committee session and could not be reached for comment early today.

Attitude in South Has Changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) declared today that there had been a change in the South's attitude toward its problems.

In a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate, Fulbright said the level of economic development in the South still is considerably below that of the rest of the country.

"However," he added, "we no longer view our difficulties as a national problem but as a challenge to ourselves; a challenge to develop our potentials to reach the national level of economic development so that the people of the South may share fully in the American standard of living."

No Cheering as Russian Leaders Tour Britain

By JOSEPH W. GRIGO

LONDON, (UP) — Prime Minister Anthony Eden will deliver a sharp warning to Russia today not to meddle in the explosive Middle East, informed sources said.

Eden was prepared to submit the warning to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Communist Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev at their first formal meeting this afternoon the sources said.

They said during their talks, during the next eight days, Eden will warn the Soviets of the risks of big powers becoming embroiled in Middle East fight, demand they explain exactly their "peaceful existence" statements, and ask whether the Russians now are ready to break their Iron Curtain barriers.

Eden invited Khrushchev and Khrushchev for their present visit during the height of the "Genoa spirit" days; when the Big Four met last summer in Switzerland.

But he was reported approaching Khrushchev and Khrushchev with a warning that the Russians' latest developments that included a complete breakdown of the Genoa spirit and the opening of a new Soviet cold war offensive in the Middle and Far East.

Minor incidents plagued the Russians for the second straight day as they left their hotel and left an immense wreath at the tomb of Queen Elizabeth in London.

A woman was arrested outside the hotel as she took her picture from behind a police line and shouted "Mr. Khrushchev, I want to speak to you," here was a snuff.

A 12-year-old carrying an air rifle was led away by police from Buckingham Palace where the Russians signed the visitor book. However, they will visit the tomb of Queen Elizabeth until Sunday.

Police fought to hold back crowds surging forward toward the "Genoa spirit" after the Russian left in fear they would destroy the wreath. However, they only destroyed the wreath of the incineration halling the way, dead of both countries.

Huge crowds including American tourists watched the Russian leave. There was no cheering.

The Prime Minister plunged today into the first of a series of "little summit" conferences with the visiting Russians. Altogether he will meet them seven times across the conference table.

The three met last night at an unexpected and informal dinner at the swam Claridges. Room which has been turned into a plush-lined fortress for the duration of the 10-day Soviet visit.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd extended the invitation without advance warning yesterday afternoon. Diplomatic circles said the fact the Russians accepted so quickly was a hopeful sign.

Diplomatic circles said the Russians seemed anxious to get formal talks started as soon as possible. They already had begun their visit with a spectacular "peace offensive" apparently designed to influence British public opinion and cast Khrushchev and Khrushchev in the role of peace emissaries.

In a quick follow up, Khrushchev announced on his arrival here yesterday that "the Soviet union is a peaceful country."

"I hope our visit here will contribute to a relaxation of tensions, better mutual understanding, and better relations," he added.

The British press ceased off its bitter criticism of the two Russians and coupled front page stories of the subdued "peace offensive" with editorial pointing out the importance of high level talks.

TODAY'S BIG SPECIAL at a price that will open your eyes
(and Purse)

If you're in the market for a real buy, take a good look at this one.
It's a 1956 Buick Special—which means, of course it's a big car.
But look again at the price news it carries.

It tells you this big Buick SPECIAL can be yours for only a few dollars more than the price of the well-known smaller cars—for even less than some models of those very same cars. (And the price we'll show you proves how true that is.)

The gospel truth is—this brawny new beauty is the biggest bundle of high style and hot performance ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

Even that, though, doesn't completely explain why Buick outsells every car in America except the two well-known smaller ones.

To understand the big reason, you've got to know something about how much pure automobile you get for your money in a 1956 Buick—

The extra satisfaction of commanding Buick's walloping new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine—

The extra joy and comfort of Buick's new buoyant ride, Buick's matchless new handling ease, Buick's extra solidity of structure—

The extra thrill that comes from the world's most modern transmission. For, at your option, you can also have the new double-action take-off—and the extra gas-saving mileage—of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

Those are some of the things we'd like you to know, firsthand, about the 1956 Buick. And we'll let the car itself—and that low price tag—do the talking. Will you come in—real soon—this week maybe?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional on models extra cost on the Special.

for a series of elimination bouts to provide a September challenger — or a new champ if Rocky quits.

Norris said he had to await word from Weill on 'Marciano's future. "There is a feeling around that he is going to retire," said Norris. "I don't share that feeling. If we can show him where he can draw a $500,000 gate in September we think he will fight. It is up to us to come up with a good challenger."

The blueprints for a tournament already are in the hands of Norris. (A) Johnny (Holman-Bob) Baker match is set for Miami, May 9. (A) Floyd (Patterson-Hurricane) Jackson bout is in the making, probably for early June. Archie Moore, the lightweight champ who defended against Yolande Pompey in London in June, also figures in the picture.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Harlem Globetrotters carry a lead of 11 games to nine into their final exhibition basketball contest with the College All-Stars here tonight.

Yankees Win, So Does Giants and Red Sox

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press
Yogi Berra's running this "most valuable player" thing into the ground.

With three American League MVP plaques already up on the game-room wall in his Woodcliff Lake, N. J., home, the 31-year-old New York Yankee catcher is off to his best start yet in a shot at an unprecedented fourth award.

The Yanks have scored 19 runs in walloping the Senators (twice so far in Washington and Yogi, always a dangerous hitter with a man on base, has driven in seven of them. He just plain gave the Senators a fit-reaching base safely in his first nine trips to the plate in the two games with five hits and four walks.

It wasn't until his 10th trip that Washington — showing even worse pitching than was expected — finally got him out, on a pop foul. That night was the eighth inning of last year's game and by then the damage had been done as the Yankees scored four times in the first of a teammate Bob Weisler.

The 2-0 record enabled the Yankees to keep pace with Boston's Red Sox, who rallied to beat Baltimore 8-4 yesterday for their second straight.

Chicago and Cleveland were idle. Cold weather postponed Kansas City at Detroit.

The National League had only one game scheduled, and the New York Giants scored twice in the ninth to take another one-run decision from Pittsburgh 5-4.

Billy Martin took up where Berra left off for the Yanks, driving in four runs as New York scored six runs in the first three innings off Wiesler and then added three more in the fourth off rookie Hal Griggs. That was enough to shrug off a three-run Washington rally that chased starter Johnny Kucks in the eighth. Jim Konstanty finished.

Pete Runels' home run and an triple by rookie Dick Teetselbach provided the only bumps for Kucks over the first seven frames.

Bob Porterfield, late of the Senators, gave up only five hits for the Red Sox, but they included two-run homers by Gus Triandos and rookie Tito Francona, and Boston had to rally for six runs in the fifth to get home safe. The big inning was manufactured on four hits, four walks and a sacrifice fly off starter-loser Ray Moore.

Jimmy Piersall's accidental hit scored two runs to keep the rally alive. Ducking from a 3-2 pitch, his bat got in the way of the ball and popped it into right field for a single.

Ted Williams singled and walked twice, putting his batting average at .800.

While May provided the clinch hit for the Giants, linning a two-out single to score the winning run in the ninth after Alvin Dark's sacrifice fly had tied the score.

Vern Law had retired 10 in a row in a fine relief bit until the ninth.

Frank Thomas homered twice for the Bucs, who chased starter Ruben Gomez with three runs in the fourth.

The second one-run defeat left two Pirates—Roberto Clemente and Dale Long—with 25 fines for what freshman manager Bobby Bragan termed "careless plays."

Former National Loop Head Dies

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—John A. Heydler, 86, former president of the National League, who was regarded as one of the strongest it has ever known, died yesterday in his suite at a suburban residential hotel.

Heydler's health and eyesight had been failing the past several years, leaving him a virtual invalid. He leaves a widow, Nancy, who was at his bedside.

Bathroom Scales Are Becoming Standard Household Fixtures

Stepping on the bathroom scale every morning is becoming as important a custom as that first cup of coffee, isn't it? Everybody is talking about his weight, and it's a pretty well known fact that you can't do anything about it unless you can check yours daily.

So a bathroom scale appears to be a must for the home today. Stop in and take a look at our selection. We're sure you'll find the one you want and need.

- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup peanut butter
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup sifted baking powder
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup chocolate pieces or shelled, salted, whole peanuts
- 3 tablespoons granulated sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind

Republicans Not Entirely Satisfied

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Evidence of some Republican dissatisfaction with President Eisenhower's farm bill veto emerged today from a GOP campaign conference despite Party Chairman Leonard W. Hall's contention it "will help the Republican party."

Eisenhower will speak at a final conference session tonight—in effect formally opening his re-election campaign.

George F. Etzell, Minnesota national committeeman, told reporters the farm bill veto "is going to make it harder for us to elect Republicans in the Midwest."

A committee headed by Etzell held at closed sessions yesterday what some members described as unfavorable reports about the political complexion of the farm situation from Kansas and South Dakota.

The committee arranged to hear today from representatives of Colorado, North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska.

Kansas National Committeeman Harry Darby was reported to have told the group Kansas may turn out some Republican congressmen because of farm price dissatisfaction. The South Dakota delegation, headed by Senators Francis Case and Mundt, was said to have made it clear they don't want Secretary of Agriculture Benson campaigning in their states.

Hall said the farm bill veto "won't make my job any tougher," but he indicated rather clearly the Republicans hope to make up in the big cities any votes they might lose in farm areas.

"To my mind, the Republican party is doing all right in the cities," he said.

Hall said the Democrats in Congress had "stalled" action on farm legislation. He intimated they deliberately sent Eisenhower a bill they hoped he would veto.

"The President was absolutely right in vetoing the farm bill and he will be sustained by the American people," he said.

He said the farm situation "is not as I would like it," but he said he doesn't think it will cost the Republicans any states in the November presidential election.

"In my opinion the veto will help the Republican party," he said. He added he thinks Eisenhower's proposal for new soil bank legislation—which Congress may not pass—and for price support increases "will take care of the economic picture quite well" in the farm areas.

Dissents to the veto action appeared to be limited among the Republicans to states in the Midwest which depend largely on one crop. GOP workers from

THE LONG BODY

THE STORY: Slowly suspicion forms within Alice Habards mind that Cristina Lash may be involved some way in the supposed accidental death of her husband John Hazard John was apparently investigating Cristina when he died. Malcolm Hazard, Alice's son, defends Cristina to his mother.

CHAPTER IX

Malcolm took a deep breath. "Mother, there's only one way to settle this. Ask Cristina herself. I'm sure she'll have some explanation."

"I'm sure she will. There was irony in her voice."

"Take it easy, Mother. Are you absolutely sure this inscription is in Father's writing? Let me see the envelope."

Upstairs, the last daylight lingered in a long, farewell caress. Alice went straight to John's desk and unlocked the drawer. She stood silent staring at innocent paper clips and rubber bands.

"What is it, Mother? The hint of amused indulgence in Malcolm's face was the last straw. Alice whirled to face him, then checked herself. Didn't grownup children always adopt a parental tone toward parents as they aged and weakened?"

Alice spoke carefully. "The envelope is gone. Someone must have taken it."

"Not necessarily. Malcolm was being patient. 'You may have mislaid it yourself. A draft may have blown it out the open window or...'

"You think I imagined the whole thing?"

"Of course not. But I do think you're attaching undue importance to a trifle. The envelope will probably turn up in a day or so. Then you can ask Cristina about it, if you still want to. You can hardly ask her now when you can't produce the envelope, can you?"

"Then we must look for it at once."

"I'll look. I'll see if it blew outside on the grass. Why don't you go to bed now? Mrs. Hite can bring up your supper on a tray. You need rest before you decide anything."

In her own bedroom she undressed quickly. Feeling chilly, she turned on the electric blanket and got into bed. From her windows she could see the western sky. There was a sullen streak of crimson behind the wall of pine trees now.

Mrs. Hite came in with a ray and switched on the bedside lamp. "You do look tired, dear, and no mistake," she said as she drew the shades. When Mrs. Hite from the village took on the job of housekeeper she had been careful to explain that she was not a servant. A certain calculated familiarity in everything she said was rather pathetically designed to make sure that no one ever forgot the fact; yet here was no real intimacy or affection between the two women at all.

Alice ate a roll, drank some water and put the tray with the rest untasted outside her door. When she returned to bed and switched on the lamp, she was surprised to find that she was really drowsy after all. She closed her eyes and let consciousness slide away like a discarded garment.

Something sharp cut the sole of her foot. A vivid dream and a strange one—all tactile sensation with no vision at all. Never before had she dreamed that her eyes were closed in the dream itself. With a sudden surge of will power she forced her eyelids to lift.

Instantly she knew that she was not dreaming. No dream could be this real. The soreness in her bare foot, the coldness of the wind searching through the folds of her thin nylon gown, the pungent smell of the pine woods—all had a clear definition and a logical portion impossible to the subjective world of dreams.

She was fully awake now, but she was not in her own bed or even in her own room. She was outdoors, standing on a pathway, pine trees all around her.

Everything looked unfamiliar by moonlight—the black woods all around her, the silver sky above her, the pale, narrow path before her.

She rounded a curve and came to a sudden halt. A few steps beyond her was the highway, gray as death in the moon's rays. Beyond it was a demure, vine-shaded cottage. Then Alice knew she was on the path that led from her own home to the Lash cottage.

Alice shivered, cold within and without. She realized now what had happened to her. Not since her marriage had she walked in her sleep. Few people knew she was capable of such a thing. John had known. Byrd and Ray knew. Malcolm and Jean had never been told. Alice herself had almost forgotten the sensation as you forget other childish experiences, roller-skating or wearing a brace on your teeth.

But she had reverted tonight. Or was the word "regressed"? She had suffered a series of shocks all day. She had gone to bed, wondering whether she could summon the nerve to confront Cristina Lash in the morning. Sleep had come with a suddenness that now seemed suspicious—sleep as deep as hypnosis.

In her subconscious "mind" she had believed that she should confront Cristina.

In sleepwalking she had found the courage to do it, just as in sleepwalking a child will walk along the edge of a high roof where he would not dare climb if he were awake. She had come down the path to Cristina's cottage.

Four Brothers Hold 50th Anniversary

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The four Wopschall brothers and the four Thee sisters, who met in Mason City, Iowa, courted and married, were all together for a golden wedding anniversary yesterday.

The anniversary was that of Carl Wopschall, a former mayor of Pasadena, and Clara Thee Wopschall. She told about the four-way romance during an anniversary reception at St. James Methodist Church, where they were greeted by the minister who married them, the Rev. F. G. H. Stevens.

"We met in a church in Mason City," she said. "And we all began courting. Emiel and Anna were married there and then they went to California."

"My sister Martha and I came out here a few weeks later. The brothers were already here and every time I went to see Anna, I kept meeting Carl. Things just worked out."

Then Martha became engaged to Otto and Emanuel and Hulda were married next.

Transfer of Land Gets Court's Okay

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The transfer of an 86-foot strip of an El Dorado cemetery to an adjoining church was approved today by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

In the contested agreement, First Methodist Church was to care for the remaining parts of Warner Brown cemetery in return for the land.

The decision, affirming a Union Chancery Court ruling, stated that the trustees of Warner Brown Cemetery were "as near as possible the legal trustees. Therefore, said the Supreme Court, they were legally entitled to make arrangements concerning the cemetery."

The cemetery was set up in 1843 by Warner Brown, a resident of El Dorado. He named three trustees to handle property. In 1892 the original trustees had died without naming any successors. Seven persons, representing themselves as Brown's descendants, named new trustees. Successors were named in 1930 and in 1952.

The trustees named in 1952 agreed to exchange an 86-foot strip, which the church wanted for the site of an educational building, in return for the church's agreement to maintain the remainder of their 55th anniversary in November. Otto and Martha will have their 50th anniversary June 2, a day before Emanuel and Hulda celebrate their 48th. They all live in this area.

P. B. Man Seeks Chief Justice Post

PINE BLUFF (AP)—Chancellor Carleton Harris of Pine Bluff says he is considering running for Arkansas chief justice.

The 4th District chancellor said yesterday he has been urged by many people to make the race, but that he is undecided.

Candidates already in the race are Circuit Judge G. Amsler of Little Rock and Chancellor Lee Ward of Paragould.

Chief Justice Lee Seamster is ineligible to succeed himself. He was appointed by Gov. Orval Faubus to fill the unexpired term of the late Griffin Smith.

Harris, a former state legislator, is serving his second 6-year term as chancellor. He never has been defeated in a race for public office.

'LONESOME GAL' SUES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $9,000,000 damage suit has been filed against RCA-Victor by Jean King Rousseau, known as radio's "Lonesome Gal." She stated in her complaint yesterday that the record company appropriated her trademark in issuing an album entitled, "Lonesome Gal, Lurlean Hunter."

There have been no burials at Warner Brown Cemetery since 1938, the trustees said, and there is no money for upkeep of the cemetery.

The church brought the suit to establish the validity of its agreement with the trustees before beginning construction of a $400,000 educational building on the land.

Husband of Missing Woman Checked

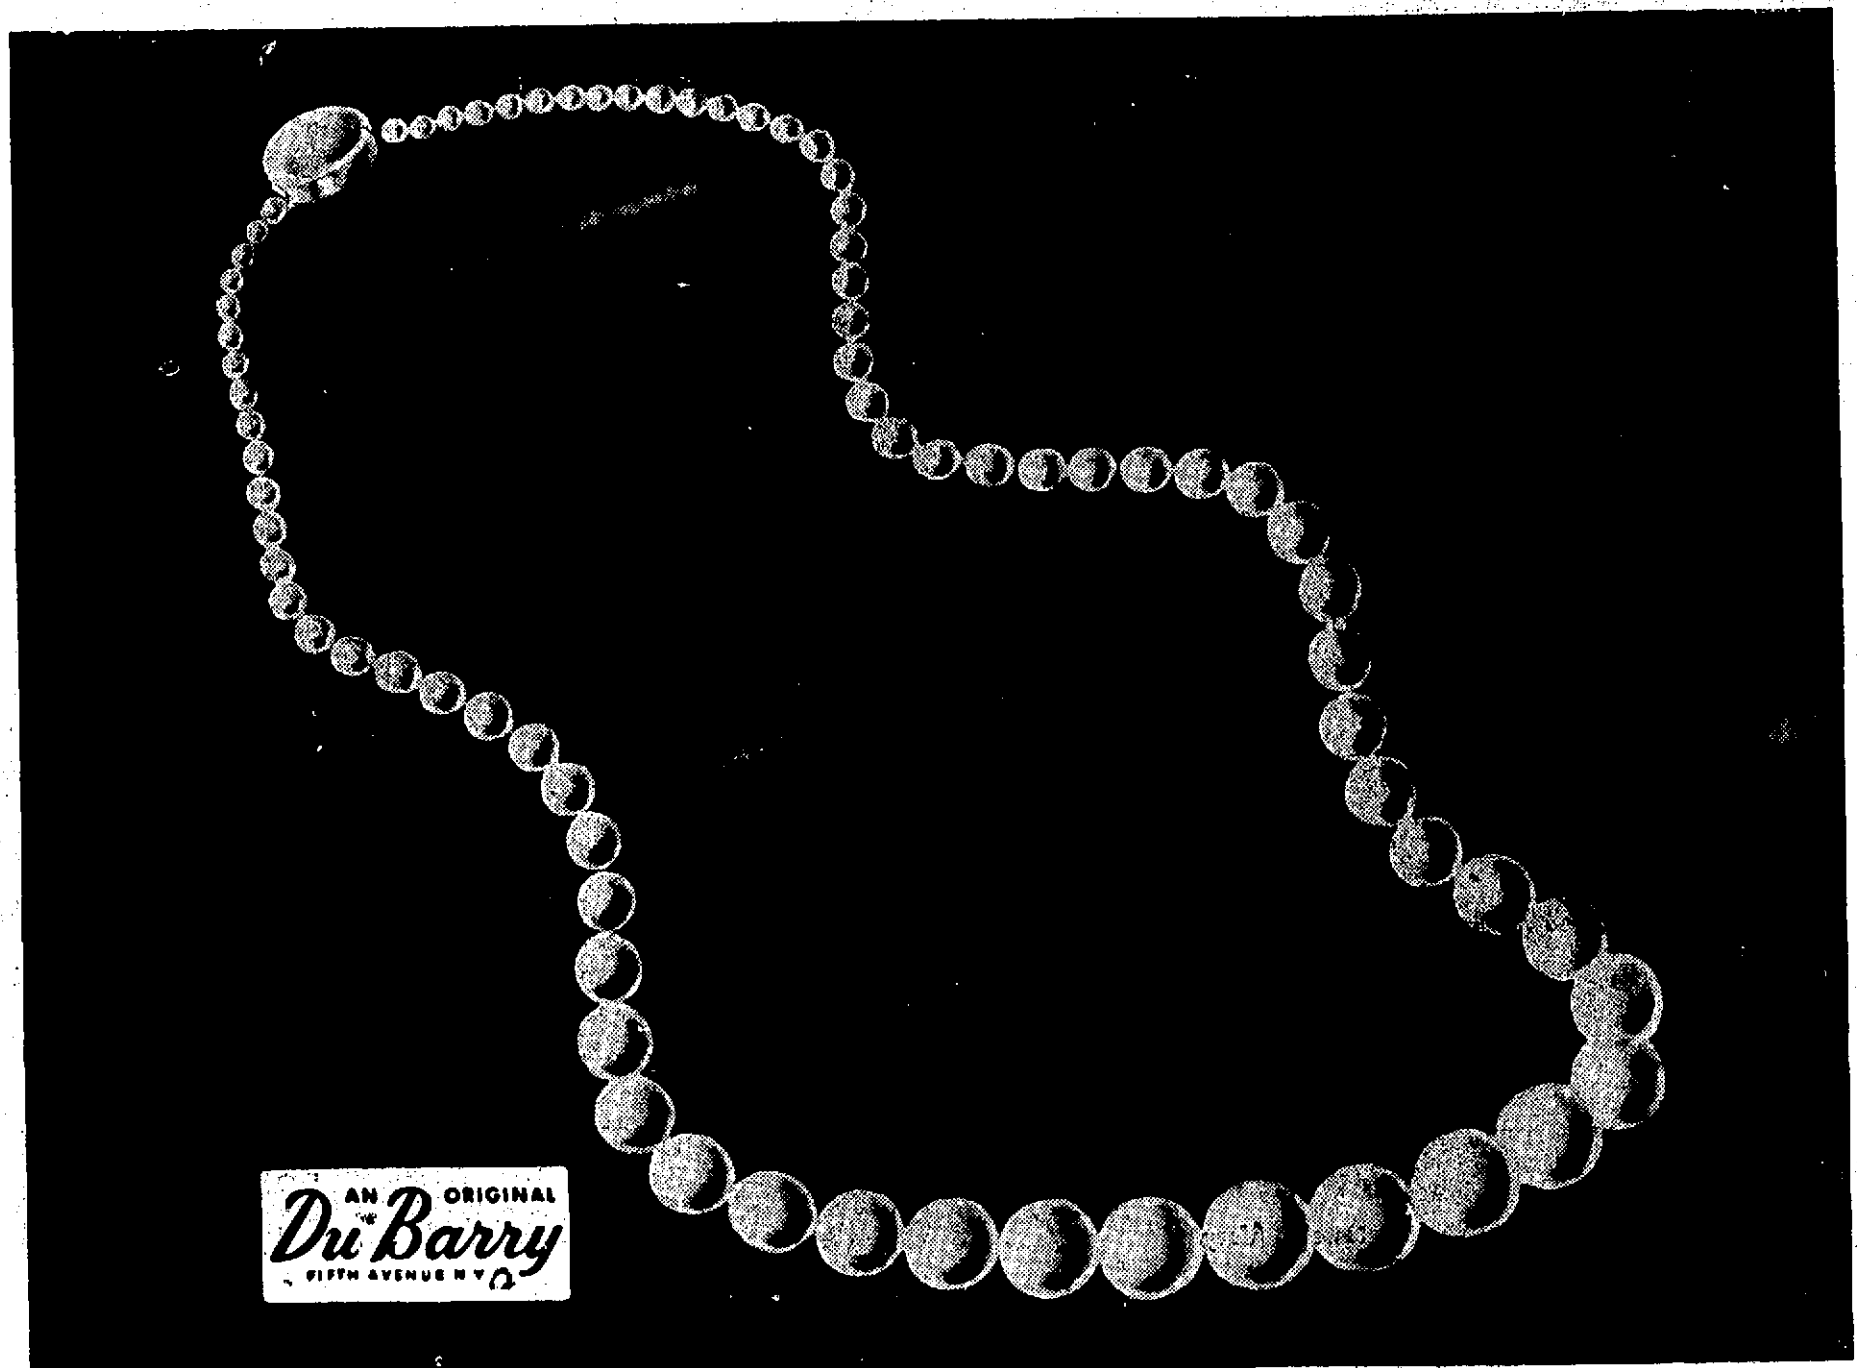

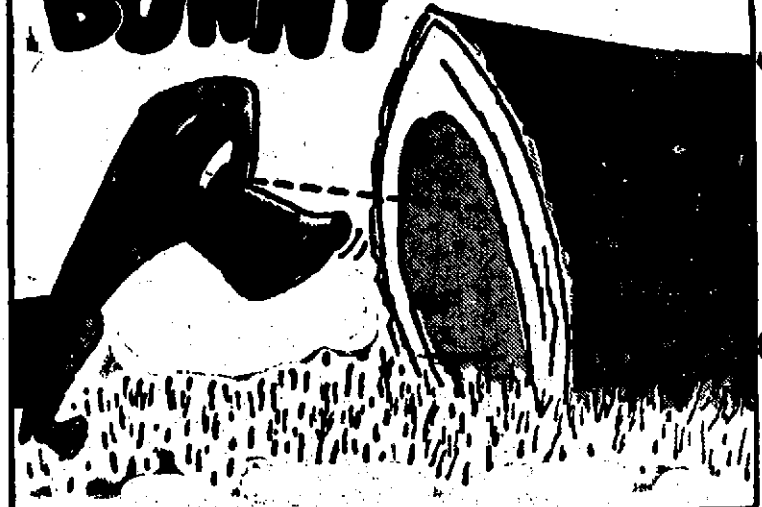

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll says he has information that L. Ewing Scott rented a safe deposit box under an assumed name three months after the disappearance of his wealthy wife, Evelyn, last May 16.

Roll said Scott had used two aliases at various times and that one of these, Robert McDonald, was used in obtaining the deposit box at a bank. A handwriting expert for the district attorney, Donn Mire, said he had examined the Robert McDonald signature and determined it had been written by Scott.

Roll asked that the Robert McDonald box be opened in the presence of lawyers, bank officials and police. Scott's lawyer, Seth M. Hufstader, said he anticipated no difficulty in obtaining permission to open the box.
